

New season's GREETINGS

New year, new regime... Grace Timothy tracks down the people, places and soon-to-be-cult buys for 2017

MAKE MATTE PALETTE, £20

THE MODELS TO WATCH...

KAIA GERBER

Still only 15 years old, but set to be the next model royalty. Daughter of Cindy Crawford, muse of Marc Jacobs Beauty

DS & DURGA ITALIAN CITRUS EAU DE PARFUM, £98

American idols

New York hipster brand Make – multi-use make-up for millennials – is coming to Britain at the end of the year. Keep an eye out for the Custom Finish Effects Matte/Dew palette (£20) for touch-ups, and the Moonlight Primer (£40), a gel cream that protects skin from the damaging effects of artificial light. Another New York original, Brooklyn's cult perfumery DS & Durga, launches its 11 distinctive scents at Liberty this month. Rose Atlantic is the salty twist on a classic that we're awaiting with bated breath. Makebeauty.com; Liberty.co.uk

CAMI MORRONE

Friends with Kaia, Cami is famously athletic and already signed to Victoria's Secret Pink

INKA WILLIAMS

A Bali-based beauty, with doll-like looks and an Instagram to drool over

CLAUDIA GOULD

Brit girl as comfortable on the runway as she is hitting the festival circuit

Nailed it

If you like your manicures bright, give new Fitzrovia nail salon Colour Riot a try. And if you're in LA, check out Olive and June, right, in Beverly Hills. It shot to fame offering manicures at Chanel's "I Love Coco" pop-up at Bar Marmont in February, and the Laurel Canyon-vibe nail art is cool and relaxed rather than blingy. Products are now in the pipeline, and looking even further ahead, founder Sarah Gibson Tuttle has her sights set on London. Colourriotnails.co.uk; Olivejune.com

Taking the minutes

Hayo'u is a new online wellness programme masterminded by acupuncturist Katie Brindle. The one-minute relaxation techniques are easy to slot in to your day, and we love the products, which combine Chinese medicine with a no-nonsense British approach. It's also worth checking out Indian-inspired brand Uma for relaxing oils and massage tools, which come with instructions for DIY acupressure and breathing techniques, helping to calm your mind and bolster your skin's natural repair processes. Or if insomnia is your bête noir, try Uma's aromatherapeutic Pure Rest Wellness Oil, out now (£60). HayoMETHOD.com; Cultbeauty.co.uk

LEMON BODY LOTION, £8.50

CLEAN CONSCIENCE

Brands on a mission are making waves in the beauty world, and they don't get more purposeful than Soaper Duper, the brainchild of Marcia Kilgore (of Bliss Spa fame). This is a great, hard-working bath-and-body line with an emphasis on ethical sourcing and packaging, plus a donation to Water Aid and Clean the World projects. Available at Liberty

Step change

Hot on the heels of this summer's Korean-inspired splash masks, we segue into the latest K-beauty craze: step masks. The country's skincare regimes are more comprehensive than the average European's, and the three adjoining sachets usually contain a cleanser or prep solution, a serum to treat and finally the mask itself. Try Holika Holika's Pig-Nose Clear Black Head 3-Step Kit (£4.50), or its Golden Monkey Glamour Lip 3-Step Kit (£8.50) to exfoliate, plump and hydrate lips. Thisisbeautymart.com

HOLIKA HOLIKA PIG-NOSE CLEAR BLACK HEAD 3-STEP KIT, £4.50

BEAUTY INSTAGRAMS TO FOLLOW NOW...

@BEAUTYBYTHEGEEKS This group of science graduates are on a mission to debunk the beauty industry

@OMGBART He's a male-grooming obsessive, but with some interesting insights into products for women, too. Great on face masks

@SKINOBSOSSOR A cheerful New York-based twentysomething skincare guru who'll talk you through everything from morning cleansing routines to the best bathtime skin rituals

